HANNA WILL WIN NOW

Has Majority of Votes In Senate and House Together.

JOYCE, MANUEL, GRIFFITH FOR HIM.

Republicans Who Stood by the Combine Issue a Statement Calling For Investigation of Bribery Charges—Speaker Mason Defines His Position.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 12.—Marcus A. Hanna will win. A vote on the senatorship was precipitated ahead of time, and Mr. Hanna received 73 votes in both houses, just enough to elect in the joint session to follow.

The suddenness of the result was a great surprise. In the house 56 Republicans voted for Hanna. Lane and Droste, the fusion Republicans from Cincinnati, voted for Hanna. Joyce, Manuel and Griffith, who voted against Boxwell, voted for Hanna. They were the three who broke away from the Kurtz combination.

There was a burst of applause when Griffith of Union voted "Hanna." He is the member whose wife was so unpleasantly drawn into the contest.

The Democrats were not united. They had been divided by ex-Senator Price's agents, who have been working for Hanna for several weeks. General Wiley of Wooster voted for John J. Lentz, the Columbus congressman. Hazlett of Crawford voted for Wiley. Hess of Shelby voted for General A. J. Warner of silver fame. The ballot stood: Hanna, 56; McKisson, 49; Lentz, 1; Wiley, 1; Warner, 1; and Marcus A. Hanna was declared the choice of the house for the short term, ending March 4, 1899. The vote in the house on the long term was the same.

In the senate McKisson received the solid Democratic vote, 19, and Hanna 17, including Voight, the Republican fusionist of Cincinnati. McKisson was declared the choice of the senate for senator for both terms.

A great cry has been made about a "bribe" which the Hanna managers are charged with offering Representative Otis of Cincinnati, who alleged that of $10,000 offered him he had already received $1,700. The Hanna managers disclaim all knowledge of Henry H. Boyce of Washington, who is charged with giving the money.

In connection with the following statement has been given out by the Republican members of the general assembly who refused to vote for Mr. Hanna:

"Whereas, Charges of attempted bribery in connection with the election of a United States senator have been made on the floor of the house of representatives against Hon. Marcus A. Hanna, Charles Dick, S. D. Hollenbeck and one Henry Harrison Boyce; and

"Whereas, Other charges of bribery have been made in connection with the said election; now, therefore, we, the undersigned members of the Seventy-third general assembly of the state of Ohio, earnestly ask that before proceeding further with the election of a senator to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of the Hon. John Sherman, a joint committee be appointed from the senate and house of rep-representatives, with power to send for persons and papers and to thoroughly investigate and report to the respective houses the truth or falsity of said charges.

"Having an abiding faith and confidence in the truth of the charges of bribery made against the above named parties, in the name of the people of this great state, in the name of justice and purity of conduct, in the name of public morals and in the name of everything that is dear to a patriotic people, we ask and demand that such investigation be had, and regardless of our determined opposition to the election of Senator Hanna, if such investigation shall result in showing that said charges of bribery are untrue, we pledge ourselves to vote for Senator Hanna in the general assembly of Ohio for both the short and long terms.

"C. O. RUTAN,
"VERNON H. BURKE,
"WILLIAM A. SCOTT, JR.,
"HARRY C. MASON,
"JOHN P. JONES"

"I join in earnestly asking for an investigation, but cannot in any event vote for Mr. Hanna, for I absolutely know that he did attempt to bribe.

"JOHN C. OTIS."

"I concur in asking for an investigation of the whole matter.

"M. L. BRAMLEY."

"The principal reason why I have been opposed to Mr. Hanna is because of the fact that two years ago, when the 50 year franchise bill was before the legislature, I was approached by a man from Cleveland who was lobbying in the interest of that bill. He offered me a bribe of $1,000 if I would vote for that measure. At my conference with Mr. Hanna last Saturday I told him that this reason would prevent me from supporting him, because I believed the new street railroad of which he was president was behind the man who offered the bribe, and that he himself was on the ground lobbying in the interest of the bill."

Maryland's Governor Censures Lynching.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 12.—The legislature of Maryland met last night to receive the governor's message. The document is devoted almost entirely to local issues, but lynching is strongly condemned, and the passage of laws to suppress "outlaw race tracks" is strongly urged. Anti-prize fighting and dog fighting laws are also urged.

VENGEFUL INDIANS.

Seminole Take Warpath For Lynched Brethren's Sake.

BURN TOWN AND MASSACRE WHITES

Head For Another Place and Say They Will Burn It Also—United States Marshals Call For Help—Great Excitement Prevails.

MUSCOGEE, I. T., Jan. 12.—Deputy United States Marshal Murray, who has been in the vicinity of Maud, I. T., for the past few days looking into the trouble over the burning at the stake of the two Seminole Indians, McGlessey and Simpson, by white men, telegraphed to Marshal Leo Bennett at this point last night that a band of 100 Seminole Indians had gone on the warpath, burned the town of Maud, which was the home of the greater portion of the mob of lynchers, massacred about 25 persons, and that late in the afternoon they headed for Earlsboro, which town they also expected to burn. The news has caused the greatest excitement, and bloody times are feared.

Marshal Bennett will leave for the scene at once with a posse of deputies. He professes faith in his ability to quell the uprising because of his well known popularity with the Seminoles, but the general opinion is that the trouble has gone beyond his control.

If the news of the massacre proves correct, and there seems to be no good reason for doubting it, the whites, rather than the Indians, will be the aggressors from this on, and the bloodshed will not be put down by marshals.

A troop of cavalry is now on the way to the Seminole Nation from Fort Sill, but it cannot arrive by tonight. A telegram from Oklahoma City confirms the news received from Deputy Murray and adds that a special trainload of armed citizens has gone from there to Earlsboro, where it is expected to meet the Seminole band. Excitement is said to be higher than ever before known in the Indian Territory.

A special dispatch from Oklahoma City says the uneasiness and excitement following the burning by enraged settlers of two Indians who murdered a woman near Maud, Pottawatomie county, culminated in a general attack by the Seminoles on the whites of that vicinity to avenge the killing of their brethren. As a result, the women and children of Earlsboro and eastern Pottawatomie county have fled to Shawnee and Tecumseh, and the men have armed themselves to protect their property.

The Seminoles to the number of 500 have gathered at Dance Ground, three miles from Earlsboro, just across the line in the Seminole country, and are holding a big powwow.

The situation is of such gravity that Marshal John Jones, who has a wide acquaintance among these Indians and who yesterday was at Earlsboro, telegraphed to Shawnee for armed men to come there. A trainload immediately volunteered and as soon as a special train could be made up left for the scene of the trouble.

Demand Investigation of Lynching.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Governor Brown and a delegation from the Seminole Nation are in Washington and have filed a request at the department of justice for an investigation of the burning at the stake last Saturday of two Seminole Indian boys charged with murder. The commissioner of Indian affairs is in favor of the proposed investigation, and Secretary Bliss has become actively interested in the matter. Details of the burning have been laid before Attorney General McKenna.

Want Village Name Changed.

NEW HUNTSWICK, N. J., Jan. 12.—The people of Piscataway town are agitating a change of name for that village. Thus far the trolley cars, which run there from this city, have not been marked. The reason for this is that the villagers think the name Piscatawaytown spread out on the cars would be unsightly.

HUDSON COUNTY SCANDAL.

New Jersey Legislature Appoints a Committee of Investigation.

TRENTON, Jan. 12.—When the house was finally organized yesterday, Assemblyman Gledhill introduced a resolution that a committee of five, including the speaker, be appointed to investigate the alleged maladministration of justice in Hudson county, as recommended by the governor's message. The resolution gave the committee power to subpoena witnesses and to send for papers; also to meet during the legislative recess if necessary. Assemblyman Allen of Hudson, the Democratic leader of the house, offered an amendment that the investigation also extend to Camden, Mercer and Atlantic counties. He said that Hudson county welcomed an investigation, but unless the house intended to extend the investigation to other counties he was constrained to believe that the resolution was not prompted by a desire to learn the truth, but as a matter of political buncombe. Mr. Allen's amendment was voted down by a strict party vote, and the original resolution introduced by Mr. Gledhill was then adopted. The first bill introduced in the senate was by Mr. Skirm, authorizing President Thomas Hanlon of Pennington seminary to change his surname to O'Hanlon. Dr. Hanlon has discovered that about 50 years ago his ancestors inadvertently dropped the O', thinking it a middle initial, and he wants it restored.

Senator Francis introduced a bill providing for an assistant prosecutor in counties of from 75,000 to 100,000 population which now have no such official.

Senator Reed introduced a bill providing that telegraph poles and wires shall constitute personal property for taxing purposes in the district in which they are located.

The senate adjourned until next Monday night, to which time the house also adjourned.

MADISON, Me., Jan. 12.—E. P. J. Weston, a mill owner and lumber dealer here, has filed a petition in insolvency with liabilities said to exceed $100,000, with $45,000 of secured claims. Immediately following Theodore Weston also filed a similar petition. Signing papers and notes brought on the crash, and many people in town are believed to have been drawn into the failures to the extent of their entire property. The townspeople fear that the failures will be as severely felt as any in New England for a long time.

Four Victims of Gas.

ALLEN TOWN, Pa., Jan. 12.—Four men in search of work sought shelter from the cold in the nest of boilers at the Crane blast furnaces. Catastrophe and three of them were found dead and the fourth suffering so much from the effects of furnace gas that he cannot recover. Only one of the unfortunates has been identified—John Smith, residence unknown.

Would Not Stand a Reduction.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Jan. 12.—Edward Lynch, for years superintendent of the Union Manufacturing company, declined to accept a reduction of his salary and has resigned his position. His place has been filled. The cotton mills here, when the reduction of wages went into effect, lowered the salaries of superintendents, treasurers and overseers.

DAVIS' LONG SPEECH

Upholds Hawaiian Annexation In the Senate.

OUR RELATIONS WITH THE ISLANDS.

He Dwells Upon the Desirability of This Territory to All the Leading Powers of the World—Proceedings of the House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Except for a few minutes given to a controversy over some minor postoffice confirmations, the entire time of the executive session of the senate was consumed by Senator Davis of Minnesota in a speech in support of Hawaiian annexation. Mr. Davis is chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, and his speech was generally accepted as the semi-official utterance of the majority of the committee. He spoke for about two hours and when the senate adjourned had not finished. The speech was the first upon the merits of the treaty, and on this account and because of the known fact that Senator Davis had made a very careful investigation of the subject he received the undivided attention of the members of the senate regardless of individual views.

The portion of the speech delivered consisted of a review of the relations between this country and Hawaii during the history of these islands and was

SENATOR DAVIS.

Intended to show that the United States had exercised a fostering and protecting care over them from the beginning, with many evidences of the intention ultimately of making them an integral portion of the American domain. "I approach this question," the senator began, "with, I hope, a due sense of the responsibility imposed upon me in beginning a debate the result of which may be of momentous consequence to the future welfare of both this country and the Hawaiian islands. The question," he continued, "is one of importance so vast that one must of necessity approach it with a certain degree of timidity, because it is very difficult to present all the points involved as they should properly be presented, however much care and attention one may have given to the subject."

One strong point which Mr. Davis dwelt upon at considerable length was the desirability of these islands, not only to this country but to all the leading powers of the world. "We," he said, "should take the islands while we have the opportunity, and if we do not want them it will be a very easy matter for us to get rid of them on our own terms." He showed that they would be a very important territorial acquisition to either Japan, England or Russia and expressed the opinion that either of those powers would take the islands off our hands at any time we might make known our desire to be rid of them. It would be easy enough, he said, to turn them over to some other country in case we find them to be an undesirable acquisition. But who will say that it will be so easy for us to take them at some future time in case we voluntarily deprive ourselves of the present opportunity?

Civil Service Debate Ends.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The civil service debate which was inaugurated in the house a week ago ended yesterday. It opened with a row, but ended very tamely. There was not even a vote on the appropriation in the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. The Republicans who are seeking to modify or repeal the law decided to let the debate close to a close, but it required the casting vote of the speaker to accomplish this.

The debate yesterday was quite dull until the closing hour, when Mr. Simpson, the Kansas Populist, introduced it with some references to the Ohio senatorial election. Mr. Bailey, the Democratic leader, made a clear statement of the minority position, which indicates that the minority will vote to repeal but not to modify the law. The principal speech of the day was made by Mr. Grossius, chairman of the civil service committee, who defended the law in a two hour speech.

ESTERHAZY CLEARED.

French Court Martial Declares the Accused Count Innocent.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—Major Esterhazy, charged with having had dealings with a foreign power inimical to France, has been acquitted by the court martial which tried the case and was at once liberated.

His acquittal has been received by the public with the greatest enthusiasm. He is quite a popular hero. All complaints as to the secrecy and unsatisfactory nature of the trial appear to be forgotten. The Solr says, "The verdict gladdens the heart and gives every satisfaction to France." In many quarters, however, it is still recognized that the scandal is not yet ended.

LIVED LIKE A CÆSAR.

How John Reed, Swindler, Befooled the People of Plainfield, N. J.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Jan. 12.—Maintaining a luxurious home in Plainfield, with carriages at call and servants at beck, Mr. and Mrs. George Spencer were esteemed as rich and estimable residents of this town. Mr. Spencer was away from home much of the time, but Mrs. Spencer was graciously welcomed into the exclusive society of Plainfield. Near the Spencers, at 1002 Putnam avenue, lived, in equal luxury, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ludlum. Mr. Ludlum, like Mr. Spencer, was continually away from home.

The reason for the absence of Spencer and Ludlum has been discovered in a way that makes a social cataclysm at Plainfield. "Mr. Spencer" is none other than John Reed, alias John Greenhalge, the most notorious swindler in all the east. He was arrested in Philadelphia on Monday evening. Charges enough may be made to send him to prison to serve sentences reaching far into centuries to come. "Mr. Ludlum" is described as Spencer's second. "Mr. Ludlum" is being diligently sought for by the police of half a dozen states.

THE TEMPERATURE.

7 a. m., 35°; 12 m., 38°; 3 p. m., 40°.

Binghamton's new Democratic Mayor, Jerome DeWitt, in his inaugural message, outlines his administrative policy by saying that the aim of municipal government should be "to avoid excessive and burdensome taxation, and at the same time to foster and encourage the growth and progress of the city." Growth and progress follow as a natural sequence of relief from excessive taxation. Nothing so hampers and retards and cripples a city as a heavy burden of taxation for it frightens away investors and renders industrial development impossible.

Mark Hanna made a great mistake when he accepted public office. The meteoric success he achieved as the manager of the McKinley campaign, both before and after nomination, made him a unique figure in politics. As the maker of a President, seeking nothing for himself, he was almost as great a man as the President himself. When, however, he accepted a seat in the Senate there were a score of his colleagues who towered above him and, no matter what the outcome, there is neither dignity nor honor in such a fight as he has had to make to retain his seat in the Senate.

DISTRIBUTED THE BADGES.

Licenses Taken Out by Baggage-men, Hackmen and Truckmen, To-day.

The licenses issued all expire April 1st. The badges were sixty cents each, and the license fees were at the rate of $2 a year for hackmen carrying passengers and baggage, and $1 a year for baggage expressmen and truckmen. The licenses issued being only for three months only one-quarter of the annual fee was collected.

Badges were issued as follows and in the order named:

Wm. Phelps, G. Colby, J. F. Miles, E. J. Coburg, David H. Tripp, C. D. Dehnamer, L. M. Brown, W. H. Coleman, Herbert V. O'Malley, Samuel Bensley, James T. Muir, Andrew Halsey, J. W. Pierce, Spencer Greer, Ora G. O'Neal, Fred M. Harford.

SENT BACK THE KEYS.

The ARGUS mentioned the fact, a few days ago, that Walter Weeks, the well-known bicycle rider, had left town, and that his employer, Chas. L. Swozy, did not know where he was. Mr. Swozy has waited patiently for a letter which would contain some explanation of his trusted clerk's sudden disappearance.

Walter took with him the keys of the store, and Mr. Swozy was naturally annoyed at not hearing from the absent clerk. To-day, however, he received an envelope, postmarked New York city, which contained only the keys, wrapped up in paper. There was not a word of explanation.

A MIDWINTER CYCLONE.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

Memphis, Jan. 12.—A tornado struck Fort Smith, Ark., last night, in the middle of Garrison avenue, destroying the rest of the town from and including 12th street to the western limit of the city. It then passed eastward toward Little Rock, wrecking farm buildings. It struck the small town of Alma and destroyed several buildings there.

Fires broke out in all directions at Fort Smith. Up to 2 o'clock this morning, eighteen bodies had been recovered. Some were killed by falling houses and others were burned to death. It is understood that several were killed at Alma and between the two places.

The large new school building at Fort Smith is a total wreck.

The latest information is that the fires are under control. There are no wires from Fort Smith and only one west. A conservative estimate is that Fort Smith's dead will probably reach twenty-five.

VAN BUREN, Jan. 12.—Scores of dead and wounded are being dragged from the ruins of the wrecked buildings at Fort Smith. The list of the dead may reach fifty.

The greatest damage was between Eighth street and the Catholic church. It is said that not a building was left standing in that section. The brick building at Ninth street and Garrison avenue was crushed like an egg shell. The second story was for living purposes and the greatest number of dead are probably there.

It is well known that more than one body was cremated by fire. Every physician in the city is busy relieving the wounded. At 3 o'clock eighteen bodies had been taken to the Fort Smith morgue.

The Baptist and Central Methodist churches, the two largest in the city, were completely destroyed. The Browncomb Church was badly damaged.

HANNA WINS THE DAY.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

COLUMBUS, Jan. 12.—Hanna was elected Senator in the joint session held to-day. The Senate roll was first called, and resulted the same as yesterday's vote. McKisson 19, Hanna 17.

Before the joint convention the House had showed itself unchanged, voting down a motion to suspend the rules and consider a motion ordering a committee to investigate the bribery charges by a vote 56 to 32. The joint session roll call showed the same vote.

Hanna was elected for both terms, the only change from yesterday's vote being that Hazlett and Hess, who cast single votes, joined the McKisson forces. The result was: Hanna, 73; McKisson, 70; Lentz, 1, absent, 1.

MURDER CHARGE DISMISSED

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The murder charge against Chas. Zanoff, accused of poisoning his fourth wife, has been dismissed. Prof. Withouts stated that he could not swear positively that the woman's death was caused by poison.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. HANFORD.

Woman's Missionary Society of the Second Presbyterian Church Held a Memorial Service.

The pleasant home of J. C. Mills, on Highland avenue, was filled, Tuesday afternoon, with members of the Missionary Society of the Second Presbyterian Church, the occasion being the annual praise meeting and a memorial service of the late Mrs. E. F. Hanford, who for so long was a faithful member of the society, and held the office of corresponding secretary at the time of her death. The meeting was opened with reading of the Scriptures by Mrs. Charles Beattie, president of the society, followed by prayer, led by Mrs. J. B. Kimber.

After singing, "All hail the power of Jesus name," Mrs. Beattie spoke very eloquently of the beautiful Christian life and triumphant death of Mrs. Hanford, and of the great loss we as individuals and as a society had sustained in her death, being the first among the officers of the society since its organization.

Mrs. J. W. Crans read an article entitled "Most Blessed Forever." After singing "Loving Kindness," beautiful tributes to Mrs. Hanford's memory, prepared by Mrs. A. V. Bank, Mrs. Ira M. Corwin and Mrs. Annie Preston Neale, of Goshen, were read.

After a few remarks by Mrs. Beattie, urging the society to more active service and Christian charity, Miss Annie Campbell sang a solo.

A thank offering was then made for the Asheville, N. C., mission school.

After prayer led by Mrs. W. A. Hemingway, Mrs. C. E. Cooper read a beautiful poem entitled "In Memoriam," and after singing "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow," the meeting adjourned.

PIMPLY FACES

SAVING TIME.

More and More Work Carried Forward by Night as Well as by Day.

The electric light on the lofty framework of great modern buildings under construction is now a familiar sight, says the New York Sun. The work goes on at night as well as by day, so that, with its new building completed, the valuable land shall as soon as possible again be made productive.

It is common now in busy streets to do work that involves tearing up the street pavements, on underground pipes, wires, and so on, at night; so that the work may be done with the least interruption to traffic, and with the greatest facility as far as the work itself is concerned.

And nowadays work on new pavements is carried on at night, to hurry it to completion; simply to save time. It may be, for example, that in a residence street two shifts of men are employed in laying an asphalt pavement, and the work goes right on continuously, day and night. One might look down this quiet street at three o'clock in the morning and see the men at work by the flaring naphtha torches, and the big steam roller moving back and forth just the same as at three o'clock in the afternoon.

On occasion work on gas trenches and other street work is nowadays kept right on at night. And all these things are in keeping with the great modern tendency to save time; to utilize every minute and to waste nothing.

Ex-President and His Steak.

A story goes the rounds that a few days ago Mr. Casimir-Pirier and his son, while cycling between Sens and Montreuil, stopped at a village inn and asked for lunch. "Nothing to give you," said the landlady, "but sardines and eggs." "Can you not add a beefsteak?" "Impossible. If we had a cycle and somebody to ride it I could send for the meat, but you know that it would take an hour to go to the butcher's and back." "If that's your only reason," said the ex-president, "we can overcome the difficulty." In a moment he and Master Casimir-Pirier were again on their steel horses and the ex-president in time fetched back a succulent sirloin steak.

Acropolis Built Before Christ.

On a stone of the temple of "Winged Victory" on the Acropolis at Athens an inscription has been found stating that the monument was built by Kallikrates, who was one of the architects of the Parthenon at the beginning of Pericles' government. This fixes its date at about 450 years before Christ. The Athens Archaeological society is about to undertake the restoration and strengthening of the Parthenon. Marble from Pentelios will be furnished free for this by the company working the quarries.

SUPREME COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The Wisner-Schoop Onion Case—Inquests in Two Milk Cases—A Chattel Mortgage Sale of Property Claimed by a Woman.

The case of Ralph Wisner, of Florida, against Conrad Schoop, of St. Louis, Mo., to recover a balance on the carloads of onions, one shipped in 1894 and two in 1895, occupied the attention of court at Goshen, Tuesday, until 4:30 p. m., when it was given to the jury. The counsel in the case each occupied about an hour and a half in summing up. Mr. Bacon spoke for the defense and Mr. Kane for the plaintiff.

The case was an interesting one and the court room was filled during its entire trial. The onions in question were shipped to Schoop under contract. After examination Schoop reported to Wisner that the onions were not in good condition, having sprouted and become soft and were not such onions as he had bargained for, and therefore he asked for instructions as to what to do with them. Wisner telegraphed back to do the best he could with them. Schoop sent checks to Wisner for the amounts which he claimed the onions brought. Wisner received the checks and got the money and used it. The difference between the two checks received and the amounts claimed was about $1,180.

The jury rendered a sealed verdict for $1,089.64 in favor of plaintiff, and Judge Hirschberg added an allowance of five per cent.

An inquest was taken in two milk cases. Dennis C. Sly vs. Chas. H. Tammany. Judgment for $156.40. The other case was Thomas Maybee vs. Tammany. Judgment for $282.55. M. N. Kane was attorney for plaintiffs.

A jury was drawn in the case of Fannie Davenport, of Greenville, vs. William Seely, of Port Jervis. This is an action to recover for the conversion of property seized and sold by defendant, and the amount involved is placed at $120. The property in question consisted of two heifers and a wagon, and they were sold under a chattel mortgage held by defendant against the husband of the plaintiff.

Mrs. Davenport was the first witness and she testified that the property belonged to her and was purchased by her with money which she had earned by taking in washing while she was a resident of Port Jervis. She had warned Mr. Seely not to sell the wagon and heifers, as they were her property, but he said he would take care of that part of it. D. B. Davenport, plaintiff's husband, was the next witness, and after he had taken the oath Judge Hirschberg announced that he was going out of town and that court would be adjourned until 9 a. m., Wednesday.

A little merriment was caused when the last witness was called by the clerk administering the oath usually administered to a court officer. When a jury is turned over to him, everybody laughed, even the judge, and the face of the clerk was suffused with blushes.

The case of James G. Martin, of this city, against Joseph H. Swift and another, set down for Thursday. This is an action to determine the ownership of a machine seized by Martin at the North End machine shop of Sedore & Co. Martin had furnished castings for which he did not receive pay from Sedore, and after the machine was seized Swift claimed ownership. Geo. H. Decker for plaintiff, M. J. Donovan for defendant.

Goshen, Jan. 12.—The jury in the case of Davenport vs. Seely rendered a verdict for $50 in favor of plaintiff and the judge added an extra allowance of five per cent. Plaintiff sued for $120.

A non-suit was granted in the milk can case of Charles Weber against Valentine Marsh.

Erie's Port Jervis Ice House to Be Enlarged.

The Erie will abandon its ice house in Jersey City and enlarge its ice house in Port Jervis, increasing its capacity from 2,000 to 5,000 tons. Port Jervis will be made the central distributing point for the New York and Delaware divisions, and when ice is needed in Jersey City it will be shipped in carload lots.

RAILROAD MEN AT ALBANY.

Ex-Alderman A. E. Ludington, of this city, a member of the Order of Railway Conductors, was spokesman for a delegation representing the five organizations of steam railroad employees, which called on Gov. Black, Tuesday, and urged the appointment of P. F. Keefe, of Rochester, as Railroad Commissioner in place of Frank M. Baker, of Oswego, whose term of office is about to expire. Mr. Ludington said that when Michael Rickard, an engineer, was appointed, it was in recognition of the justice of the claim and of the thousands of railway employees for representation on the commission. It had been agreed then that the next candidate urged for appointment by the railroad employees should be a conductor, and the delegation for which Mr. Ludington spoke asked Mr. Keefe's appointment in behalf of the organized railway employees of the State.

The Governor listened attentively, but was non-committal, saying merely that he would take the matter under consideration and carefully examine all endorsements filed with him and decide accordingly to his best judgment.

The railroad employees are not at all sanguine of securing Mr. Keefe's appointment. Baker is Platt's man, and was formerly superintendent of a railroad that Platt controlled. Gov. Black's "judgment" led him to prefer Baker to Keefe a year ago, and the influence that controlled then will probably control now.

A FALSE IMPRESSION.

Relations of Middletown Clergymen Were Never More Amicable Than at Present.

Although certain letters that have recently been published may seem to convey the impression that the clergymen of this city are at odds and that anything but cordial and fraternal relations exist between them, the fact is that with one exception the pastors of Middletown's churches were never more heartily in accord and never felt more kindly and warmly toward each other than at present. And while it is to be regretted that the pastor of one of the churches finds it impossible to work in harmony and live on terms of amity with his ministerial brethren, we feel we are warranted in saying that none but kindly feelings are entertained by the other pastors and the other churches toward the church and pastor who have elected to go it alone.

BROKE THE WINDOWS.

James G. Harding and J. D. Horton are Wondering if the Opera House is Settling.

A few days ago, a crack appeared in one of the large plate glass windows in J. D. Horton's store in the Bull's Opera House building on West Main street, and on the following morning the crack had extended clear across the window. Tuesday, a crack appeared in one of the windows of J. G. Harding's store, next door to Mr. Horton's. To-day the crack has extended in both directions until the large plate glass is virtually ruined.

The cause of these breaks is unknown unless the building has settled enough to bring pressure on the glass.

A very heavy safe was placed recently in the gas company's office directly over these windows.

THE TRICKED RASCALS.

IN THE good old days when highway assaults were rife, and solitary post-chaise travelers never journeyed without pistols in their pockets, and tremor at their hearts; when strange feats in the shape of starlight robberies were boasted of and a "Knight of the Road" aspired to be called a gentleman, the following incident occurred:

One afternoon in early autumn, close upon sunset, a couple of well-dressed men, driving a light gig in which was a poor, faded-looking horse, stopped at a wayside posting inn, not a hundred miles from Bath, and requested accommodation for the night. They were fashionably attired, and spoke in condescending tones to the landlord and servants, using a few words now and again of town slang, as young bucks of the first water were proud to do in that day.

Giving the horse and gig over to the care of the ostler, they adjourned to the public room and called for some light refreshments in the shape of drink, ordering a supper to be served later.

"What's this story about a great highway robbery near here last night, landlord?" questioned one. "We heard of it on the road coming along. Is it true?"

"Quite true, sir. Ah, gentlemen, it is a dreadful thing, though clever, I must say. My Lady Cantiferre, with her two daughters, was driving home across the heath an hour or two after midnight, having been to a ball, when their carriage was stopped by four mounted horsemen with cocked pistols. The old lady screamed and fainted; the young ones screamed and kicked, and the gentlemen, those audacious robbers, proceeded politely to rifle the ladies of every ornament they wore."

"Secoundrels!" interjected one of the guests.

"More than that, your worships. What should those bold blades do but invite the damsels to tread a measure with them? It was a fine night, as you may perhaps remember, sirs; the moonbeams shined bright on the bare heath. Out of the coach they handed them and footed it in a minute, dancing, it is said, to perfection, as though they were used to lead out the king's own daughters every night of their lives. The young ladies' screams ended in laughter; the baroness woke up from her faint and abused them all, robbers and daughters together. Oh, they are bold, these gentlemen of the highway!"

"And the upshot?"

"The young ladies were bowed into their coach again, all with stately ceremony, and the robbers, after wishing them a very courteous good-night, rode off at a canter, with every jewel they had possessed, small or large, costly or simple, and my lady's purse into the bargain. They may well boast that they lead merry lives—those men! Fine commotion the news has caused round about us to-day, as you may imagine, gentlemen. Everybody's talking of it."

The landlord, being called for elsewhere, retired; the travelers sipped at their glasses, laughing away and conversing with one another in an undertone. Dusk came on and the elder and taller of the two addressed his friend in a different tone.

"About time to see after the horse, isn't it, Jim? It's dark enough."

"I was just going to," answered Jim, and, draining his glass, he went away to the stable-yard.

Looking about him with the air of a connoisseur, after watching his horse eat up its oats, he made himself acquainted with the arrangements of the stables. Some five or six horses were in them. In the box next to his own stood a splendid animal, evidently valuable.

"A better steed nor yourn, sir!" cried the ostler from behind him in a quiet voice, and the gentleman gave a start, not thinking any body was near.

"Ay; mine has seen good service, and he has been worked hard lately," answered the stranger, good-humoredly. "A very fine animal, this, as you observe. And yet," stepping back to look critically at it, "were my horse in good condition it might not be much inferior to this. They are not altogether unlike—about the same height and much the same in color—brown."

With the last words the stranger went back to the house whistling. The ostler peered after him through the dusk while he made his comments.

"You have got a cheek, master, whoever you may be, and an impudent cheek it is, going and comparing of the two horses like that—this 50-guinea, beautiful animal and that there wretched old hack o' thein! What next? I wonder who they be when they be at home?" And with that he looked the stable-door.

"Well?" cried the elder traveler, when the other one returned. "Any chance?"

"Never had a better chance in all our lives," was the answer. "In the next box to ours stands one of the grandest animals you ever saw—same color, same size, or about it; worth a little fortune. And a set of silver-mounted harness hanging up by him."

"Silver-mounted?"

"Think so. Looks like it. We have got a rich chance, I tell you, Wade."

Supper was announced in due time and the two hungry men did justice to it. Afterward they sat over the fire and retired to their room about 11 o'clock.

The first thing they did on entering the chamber was to double lock the door and put the candle out; the second was to softly open the window, to stretch their necks out as far as they conveniently could and to wish the moonlight was "hanged."

"Nothing of a drop, that," observed Wade, measuring with his eye the space to the ground. "A child might jump it. Shut down the window, Jim, and let's have a pipe. Hang that moon again! I

Taken early during gestation, it renders the mother strong and cheerful; carries her through her time of trial with perfect safety and little pain; insures healthy nourishment and increased constitutional vitality for the child. It is the only preparation devised by a regularly graduated, experienced physician for the cure of all weaknesses and diseases of the feminine organism.

Mrs. E. B. Cannings, of No. 4300 happy St., St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I am now the happy mother of a fine healthy baby girl. I feel that your 'Favorite Prescription' has done me more good than anything I have ever taken. I took three bottles of the 'Prescription' and the consequences were I was only in labor forty-five minutes. With my first baby I suffered eighteen hours and then had to lose him. He was very delicate and only lived twelve hours. For two years I suffered untold agony, and in the meantime had two miscarriages. I cannot speak too highly for your medicine, as I feel that it has saved both my child and myself. I took it through my confinement. Find it very strengthening to myself and to the baby."

From suffering to indifference. Said a well-known physician: "Only yesterday a patient came to me and said he was going to Hot Springs to be treated for insomnia. I advised him not to go to that expense, but to take a glass of whisky before going to bed." "Well, if that doesn't send me to sleep, what then?" he asked. "Take another," I replied, "and if that doesn't answer the purpose, take a tumblerful, and then you won't give a continental whether you go to sleep or not."—Cincinnati Commercial.

They Profited. Two brothers who conducted a printing office were reading the proof of a sermon when another clergyman came in and expressed his gratification at finding them engaged in such work. "We often read sermons," said one of the printers. "I hope you profit by them," added the minister. "We do; we get $12 for each sermon we print."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Obedient Child. "I wish you would be more explicit when you're moralizing to the children," said the good wife to her husband. "You told Jimmie last night that he must never put things off till tomorrow." "Yes." "Well, the little imp went to bed with his shoes on."—Detroit Free Press.

Wondrous Wise. There was a man most wondrous wise, And quite wide awake, Who never bragged about the ples His mother used to take. He died, and his poor, weeping wife Told all the neighbors there That she had lived with him through life And never missed his hair.

That Would Be Different. Col. Threefingers—Pendleton tries to carry water on both shoulders. Col. Frankfort—He is like you in that respect, colonel. "What do you mean, sir?" "I mean that he would rather carry water on both shoulders than introduce any into his stomach."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Pleanty of Exercise. High-Priced Doctor—You are now convalescent, and all you need is exercise. You should walk ten, twenty, thirty miles a day, sir, but your walking should have an object. Patient—All right, doctor. I'll travel around trying to borrow enough to pay your bill.—N. Y. Weekly.

Took Him at His Word. George (nervously)—I'd like of all things in the world, Kitty, to marry you, but I don't know how to propose. Kitty (promptly and practically)—That's all right, George. You've finished with me; now go to papa.—Spare Moments.

No Luck at All. "I have been so unlucky this fall!" "In what way?" "Our clergyman has called three times and each time the maid has told him I had gone to a progressive-euchre party."—Chicago Record.
